PETITION

OF

CITIZENS OF BARNSTABLE COUNTY, MASS.,

REMONSTRATING

Against the repeal of the act allowing bounty to vessels engaged in the codfishery.

FEBRUARY 26, 1846.

Ordered to lie on the table, and be printed.

To the honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled:

The undersigned, inhabitants of the county of Barnstable, and State of Massachusetts, would most respectfully inform your honorable body that they have heard with pain and deep regret that the honorable Secretary of the Treasury has recommended the repeal of the law giving a bounty to vessels engaged in the codfishery. Your honorable body cannot but be aware that, with many of the civilized nations it has long been the settled policy to encourage the fishermen by giving them a liberal bounty, and thereby encouraging an invaluable school for native seamen. We would, also, respectfully suggest the important services rendered to our country from this great nursery of seamen during the last war, and beg leave to remonstrate against the repeal of the law giving encouragement to the hardy fisherman; believing, as we firmly do, that this important school should receive every encouragement our country can possibly afford, and that it can never be dispensed with without a serious if not irreparable injury to the whole nation.

BARNSTABLE, January 30, 1846.

Ritchie & Heiss, print.

PETITION

CITIZENS OF BARNSTABLE COUNTY, MASS.,

REMORBITATING

Against the repeal of the act allowing bounty to vessels engaged in the codfishery.

FEBRUARY 26, 1846.

To the honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United .
States in Congress assembled:

The undersigned, inhabitants of the county of Barnstable, and State of Massachusetts, would most respectfully inform your honorable body that they have heard with pain and deep regret that the honorable Secretary of the Treasury has recommended the repeal of the law giving a bounty to ressels engaged in the codifichery. Your honorable body cannot but be aware that, with many of the civilized nations it has long been the settled policy to encourage the fishermen by giving them a liberal bounty, and thereby encouraging an invaluable school for native seamen. We would, from this great nursery of seamen during the last war, and beg leave to remonstrate against the repeal of the law giving encouragement to the hardy fisherman; believing, as we firmly do, that this important school should receive every encouragement our country can possibly afford, and that it can never be dispensed with without a serious if not irreparable injury to the whole nation.

BARNSTABLE, Jonuary 30, 1846

Ritchie & Heiss, print.